

Testing reports:

William Stanley: your lab looks fluid and looks great, you have met most of the requirements, I think that you could do the projectile challenge and it would look great in your lab, that is the only thing you are missing, but if you want to make your lab do better, you should fix your hitboxes because they are not really lining up with your enemies or items. Other than that you are done and it looks like you did a god job.

Thank you for the reply, I will try to fix the hitboxes so it looks and plays better, I will try to do the projectile challenge depending on how much time I have left, I hope I can make the enemies disappear and the projectiles look good.

Daniela Shapiro: Your lab looks decent but you could work on making it look more profesional, I do not love your Dialog, but you seem to meet all of the requirements, except for the challenge, I think you should try and fix your hitboxes, and other than that, your lab seems complete.

Thanks for the reply, I will work on making the hitboxes smaller, and if I have time tomorrow in class finishing the challenge. I don't think I will change the way it looks, but thanks for the constructive criticism.
